Washington D.C. – Congressman Kevin McCarthy released the following statement regarding the launch of the House Republicans' Plan for America's Job Creators agenda:

"I am proud to be a part of the House Republican jobs initiative, the Plan for America's Job Creators, an ongoing effort aimed at promoting pro-growth economic policies to create more American jobs. Over the last two years, Washington Democrats' big government initiatives like the failed stimulus bill and ObamaCare have stifled job creation and added a crushing $3 trillion to our national debt. In keeping with the Pledge to America, House Republicans have spent the last five months righting the wrongs of the last Congress in order to restore certainty in our economy. The Plan for America's Job Creators, in keeping with the Pledge, provides common sense, pro-growth initiatives that will remove burdensome regulations hampering small business growth, reform our tax code to keep America more competitive in a global economy, increase competition by fostering America's entrepreneurial spirit, and maximize our domestic energy production.

"The American economy and House Republicans understand that more government is not the answer. The Plan for America's Job Creators provides the critical tools private sector job creators need in order to grow and expand so that America can get back to work."
